Houston Business Journal Names
MS Legal Search Among “Best Places to Work”

HOUSTON -- MS Legal Search has been named one of the "Best Places to Work" in the Houston area by the Houston Business Journal. MS Legal Search is the only firm specializing in legal recruitment to be recognized as a recipient of this award in the small business category.

“We are honored to be recognized as one of Houston’s ‘Best Places to Work’,” says Elaine Makris Williams, founder of the 13-year old, 10-employee firm. “We believe that our outstanding employees and our strong, collaborative culture make our firm a great place to work. Since our clients include some of the most recognized and prestigious law firms and corporations in Houston, it is essential that we have a group committed to high standards and exceptional service.”

The Houston Business Journal's “Best Places to Work” list is formulated by an anonymous employee survey. The 2008 rankings for each business category were announced at an awards ceremony on June 25 and featured in a special publication in the June 27, 2008, edition of the publication.

Established and operated by former practicing lawyers, MS Legal Search has successfully placed experienced attorneys in positions with leading law firms and corporations since 1995. The firm has offices in Houston and Dallas, is fully owned and operated by women and is a certified Women’s Business Enterprise.
